Re: In re SunEdison Inc. 16-10992

On behalf of ourselves and the numerous shareholders in SunEdison (hereinafter "SUNE") we respectfully pray that Your Honor appoint legal counsel at SUNE's expense to represent shareholders in the matter of SUNE's bankruptcy. We respectfully request that this Court review the 8K which SUNE filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on April 14, 2016 in which it's own Audit Committee found that "the Company's overly optimistic culture and its tone at the top" caused it to overestimate the cash on hand (which clearly deceived shareholders). Additionally, when SUNE released the April 14, 2016, 8K it was in the process of selling assets (with sales to take effect in the post-petition phase) and appears to have been planning this bankruptcy filing for quite some time. However, SUNE had previously issued and filed an 8K on March 24, 2016, which prohibited employees from placing any additional "invest[ment] contributions to the Plan in the Stock Fund or transfer any amount from any other investment option into the Stock Fund". While employees were forbidden from adding SUNE stock to the plan, the 8K specifically permitted its employees "to transfer amounts out of the Stock Fund to another investment option". This filing gave shareholders the impression that the company was aware of news which would increase the value of SUNE's stock and necessitated closing its Stock Fund to further contributions from employees to prevent insider trading. It is our understanding that a blackout period is required to protect shareholders from being disadvantaged by insider trading which may occur by giving employees the advantage of adding shares based upon knowledge of events which will increase the value of shares. However, SUNE used the blackout as a sword and plotted advantages for itself post-bankruptcy, while hiding behind a wall of silence of its own creation.

Furthermore, we believe that SUNE is attempting to commit two grievous abuses against shareholders. With particularity, SUNE reportedly has shielded its India assets from the bankruptcy proceeding. However, all of SUNE's financial reports upon which we as shareholders made investment decisions, included those assets. In addition, as Your Honor is aware, SUNE owns a large stake in two "yieldco companies". It was widely claimed by SUNE and David Einhorn, a board member by proxy, that much of the debt on SUNE's balance sheet is in fact the debt of Terraform Global and Terraform Power (hereinafter "the Terraform Companies"). It appears that this debt has now been allocated to SUNE in an attempt to avoid bringing the Terraform Companies into the proceeding before Your Honor. We believe that the Terraform Companies should be included in the bankruptcy proceeding and/or many of the debts on SUNE's balance sheet should be transferred to the Terraform companies. Clearly the Terraform Companies are merely the alter ego of SUNE. These companies have the same officers and directors as SUNE and there are zero employees at either company. It is beyond cavil that the Terraform Companies should be included in this proceeding as assets of SUNE.

SUNE has directed common shareholders to follow the process at restructuringupdates.com, a website which SUNE set up some time ago while allowing shareholders to believe that it would avoid filing bankruptcy through subterfuge. However, it is evident that there will be no information for shareholders other than generic information which would be available in the media and the advice to seek advice from someone other than SUNE. SUNE has proven that it will protect and advance its own interests and that it has no regard for the law. As evidenced by claiming "optimism" as a defense to adding over One Billion ($1,000,000,000) Dollars to its balance sheet which monies did not exist.

Additionally, it appears from media reports that Mr. David Tepper of Appaloosa Management has information in his possession which he acquired under the seal of a confidentiality agreement that will probably further demonstrate fraud. We shareholders request the presence of counsel to raise these issues on our behalf and to seek residual value in the form of shares in the post-bankruptcy SunEdison or any other relief this Court deems just.

Accordingly, we respectfully pray that Your Honor appoint competent counsel at the expense of SUNE to represent common shareholders who have been deceived by the Bankrupt. We thank this Honorable Court for considering this request.

Respectfully submitted
